Mr. Kiziell said that be would give any proper guaranties as to efficiency of service that might be desired. The village would be liable for any accidents, fol-lowed by personal injury indemnities, as long as it retained the system. The Consolidated does not want this contract had enough to put up the $35,000 to install the system, though it will take it over and pay interest as above. In all other places it deals directly with the consumer and parries the current to him. He thought the minimum lead limit was a fair estimate of the current used at present. der this plan Randolph could supply cur-rent to Brookfield. Bandolph Center and other villages if it wished.

Mr. Cushing stated that his company receives at present about $7500 a year gross from Randolph, for street and private lighting, and called attention to the fact that the Consollidated's minimum load fact that the Consolidated successions load requirement, 273,750 k. w. h. at 5c., small mean an expenditure of about $14,000 a year.
